Forecast for Thursday 25 Mar 2021

Weather: A cloudy start to the day but a few brighter or sunny spells breaking through for parts of the Yorkshire Dales especially in the south and east. Some outbreaks of showery rain and drizzle will push across the area by lunchtime and through the afternoon and evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 40%, best chance in the morning and for the more southerly hills with low cloud developing alongside rain and drizzle.

Visibility: Good visibility in the morning with good views on the fell tops, however low cloud will form and spread east by late morning accompanying the rain. Cloud will become broken above 500m perhaps more scattered in the south of the Dales. Visibility will be moderate or poor for a time during the rain and drizzle.

Forecast for Friday 26 Mar 2021

Weather: Mainly dry overnight but a band of rain will cross the Yorkshire Dales after dawn marking a change to colder conditions, the rain will turn increasingly to sleet or snow to 500m. Becoming bright and breezy by late morning with a few brisk wintry showers and feeling cold on the hills.

Maximum wind: Southwesterly 20mph with gusts 30-35mph, possibly gales just before dawn.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 40% at first with low cloud accompanying rainfall but soon improving to 80% with most low cloud clearing, just patches on the tops during showers.

Visibility: Initially low cloud will be extensive around 500m especially in the west but cloud will lift and clear quite well during the morning with visibility turning very good or excellent on the hills. Cloud will be patchy and shroud the tops from 600m in showers but these will move through quite swiftly in the brisk winds.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 8 Celsius falling to 4 Celsius.
At 600m: Plus 3 falling to minus 1 Celsius.
Freezing level: 1000m falling to 500m.
